

Joe and I were the second homeowners in Whitlow Creek subdivision. Taylor Knox had a vision of quality homes with a quality neighborhood. We were at the home site daily during the completion of the house. All the contractors were courteous and attentive to detail during the building process.

The quality and care taken in the building process was fantastic. We had friends come in from different areas of the country during and after construction. Each commented on how wonderful the quality of workmanship of our house was. We feel fortunate to find a builder who understands quality and delivers. We are blessed to have found Whitlow Creek and live in such a wonderful neighborhood.
